BERLIN DRAFTS MEN FROM MUNITION WORKS, TO FIGHT THE BRITISH

Need of Soldiers So Great That Workers Heretofore Exempt Are Sent to Front.

AMSTERDAM, April 26.—(Indicating Germany's desperate need of more men at the front, Berlin despatches today related that the War Office had ordered a large portion of men heretofore held exempt into field service. Women will replace them. For the most part the new draft of men are those who have been working in munition plants.

Thanks to the "heroes of Arras and the Aisne" and hope of an early peace was expressed in a telegram sent by the Main Reichstag Committee today to Field Marshal Hindenburg.

Despatches from Berlin said the message "promised the entire German people would devote all their strength to the country's defence until peace—which it was hoped would come soon."

the bank of the Oise a German reconnoitering party attempted to approach our trenches near Moy. It was repulsed easily.

"North of the Aisne, the enemy renewed in vain his efforts to expect us from the plateau near the Chemin-des-Dames. After a violent bombardment yesterday evening two powerful attacks were made on the front about two kilometers west of Cerny. These assaults were broken before our lines with very heavy losses for the enemy. Another effort in the region of Hurbise Farm was equally unsuccessful. In the region of Juvincourt our artillery caught enemy working parties under its fire and dispersed them.

"In the region of La Pompelle, in the Champagne, and also on the front between Navarin Farm and Tabure, several surprise attacks by the enemy were repulsed with no result other than to leave prisoners in our hands."

The War Office statement indicated that all along the French front the Germans were making violent attempts to loose the grip of French troops on their new positions.

BERLIN WAR OFFICE CLAIMS THE REPULSE OF BRITISH ATTACK

Partial Success by the Crown Prince Over the French Is Also Reported.

BERLIN, April 26 (via London).—Following is the report issued today by the Berlin War Office:

"Army Group of Crown Prince Rupprecht—Yesterday the enemy exerted himself only in local attacks near Arras. South of the Scarpe River his attacking waves stormed our positions three times. They had to withdraw each time. "The artillery battle continued with considerable violence in some sectors. At Gavrelle our position in now situated on the eastern boundary of the village.

"Army Group of the German Crown Prince—The general situation is unchanged. The artillery duel limited itself to a narrow front. Near Hurbise Farm and further east our position on the Chemin-des-Dames Ridge was improved by some advances, during which we took prisoner three French officers and more than 160 men. In the evening the enemy, after a violent increase of his artillery fire, attacked on a front of three kilometers. He was repulsed with sanguinary losses. "In the Champagne the fighting was limited to hand-grenade encounters."

100 GERMAN AIRSHIPS SHOT DOWN IN FOUR DAYS

British Aviators With Hag's Army Make It Too Hot for Enemy Flyers.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, April 26 (via London).—Heavily overcast skies are giving the German airman a respite from British aerial attacks, enabling them to make efforts to reorganise their badly damaged squadrons. In four days fighting the British have accounted for nearly 100 enemy machines.

Owing to the heavy incursions made by British aviators the German kite balloons are timed these days, although the Germans depend mostly on them for artillery observation. They seldom attempt overhead observation with airplanes.
